

Caruso chose the Victor

- because only the Victor gives you his voice exactly as it is
- because only the Victor thrills you with his mighty power
- because only the Victor charms and caresses you with all the delicate beauties of his subtlest tone shadings
- because only the Victor and Victor Records convey his matchless art to all the world for all time

Caruso is the mightiest singer the world has ever seen. He dominates the artistic world. By sheer force of his genius he has at his beck and call every resource known to his art. Only the best would suffice for such an artist. His choice of the Victor was a foregone conclusion. He decided that only the Victor could do full justice to his superb art, that only the Victor could thrill you with his power, that only the Victor could express in every fine detail the vocal subtlety of his softest tones. Hence it is that only on Victor Records can you hear him. And only on the Victrola, played with Victor changeable needles, can you hear him exactly as he is, in the tone-volume best suited to the environment in which you happen to be. Caruso's choice of the Victor demonstrates beyond question the Supremacy of the Victor.

NERVOUS EXHAUSTION

Irritability, oversensitiveness, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, dizziness—these are symptoms of nervous exhaustion, neurasthenia. Very often the patient feels best and brightest at night. Rest seems to bring no refreshment, the nervous system fails to recuperate. This distressing condition is caused by worry more often than by any other one thing. Overwork and worry invite the disorder.

The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed towards building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail at 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50. Begin the treatment at once before your condition becomes chronic.

Two useful books, "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat," will be sent free by Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper.

TO EXTEND THE WAR TAX.

Democrats Adopt a Scheme to Tide Over Holidays.

Wilson's Talk on Neutrality Starts Debate in Senate.

Shabby Treatment Given the Progressive Members.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The first week of the Sixty-fourth Congress brought practically harmonious legislation in both houses and revealed a determination on the part of administration leaders to attempt no serious legislative business until the holiday recess is over.

President Wilson's address Tuesday with its suggestion for national preparedness, denunciation of internal conspirators against neutrality of the government, and warning of the necessity for increased revenues, stood out as the most important event of the week.

Early in the week a fight might have been expected over the proposed extension of the emergency tax law with amendments before adjournment.

Immediately it was disclosed that this would be impossible and administration leaders were confronted with the danger that the war tax would expire on Jan. 1.

In the period would follow in which no emergency revenue could be collected.

It was thereupon agreed by House leaders that a joint resolution extending the present war tax with the time limitation eliminated should be adopted, a new bill with provisions for extension of the war tax for the period following the New Year. Senate Republican leaders have agreed to offer no opposition to such a program.

SENATE ENLIGHTENED.

President Wilson's vigorous references in his address to troubles within the borders of the United States, investigated because of the European war by citizens of foreign birth, served to give the Senate an enlightened day of debate during the past week.

Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia introduced a bill to offer an amendment, providing for investigation also of internal conspiracies against the government and of the law and facts relating to the present discussion of the Lusitania and other passenger ships.

Republicans of the Senate will confer tomorrow over committee designation of the bill.

It was reported last night that Progressive Republicans would protest against the defeat of Senator Kenyon of Iowa for place on the Foreign Relations Committee, but this does not seem likely now.

"I do not think there will be any trouble," said a Republican leader, "but I do not think there will be any trouble."

Great Navy.

that the present system of promotion of officers by seniority be abandoned in favor of promotion by selection.

He goes at length into the results of the seniority system to find that it produces "stagnation in the lower grades, arrival at command rank late in life and a fleeting passage through the command and flag grades, combined with absolute lack of professional incentive throughout all grades."

Officers now hold the grade of captain for an average of two years, he says, and are rear-admirals for only six months before retirement for age overtakes them. About 1600 officers, he states, must pass through the grade of captain and rear-admiral in the next forty years under the present plan.

"Is selection by merit practicable under our existing form of government?" the Secretary asks. Virtually all officers admit it would be the best system, he says, but dismiss it with the statement that the political reasons it would become promotion by political influence or favoritism. He believes the system of promotion based practically upon the vote of the officers senior to the grade under consideration would be the most efficient of the floor in the grade. The result would be, he says, to give "personal stimulus to officers and to give higher commands to men peculiarly fitted to hold them."

MERIT TO BE REWARDED.

"Actual service," the Secretary adds, "crowned with efficiency, and not age should supersede the inflexible rule of seniority."

It is suggested that the present law retiring officers at 62 years of age be changed so as to provide for retirement at 65 years of age. The effect of such legislation would make the average age of retirement 65 years.

In the army the statutory age of retirement is 64 years.

"I renew my recommendation for a change in the law of retirement pay so that it shall be graded, the pay to be based upon the length of service."

He also suggests a plan for the partial and partial disability. The retired pay of the navy last year aggregated $3,383,326.36. It is an abuse of the public's generosity to give three-fourths retired pay to all. The law should be changed and reformed.

Turning to the problem of finding adequate funds for the navy in war time, the Secretary says he has not included any vessels in his budgetary program except those which are necessary for the navy in peace or war. On a war basis, he adds, the navy would need 400 additional ships or an increase of 1,172,000 tons for the navy.

NO QUARTER GRANTED VILLA.

His Soldiers are Shot Down as Soon as Captured.

Executions Ordered as Punishment for Looting.

Battlefield Near San Joaquin Resembles Shambles.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Dec. 12.—No quarter was granted Villa soldiers in the battle which started Thursday morning at Fronteras, continuing southward to San Joaquin and then through a mountain pass leading to the Santa Rosa road into Chihuahua, according to Americans who arrived here today from the scene.

All Villa soldiers taken prisoner were shot on orders of Gen. Calles and Angel Flores, Governors of Sonora and Sinaloa, respectively, according to the same informants, who declared that the wholesale executions were ordered as a means of punishing Villa troops for looting and other crimes.

It was said that among the Villa soldiers who were captured were found some who possessed complete lists of residents of the town and the property they owned, even to the full names of Chinese who were practical strangers to their neighbors. According to the report brought here by the Americans, every house in Fronteras was sacked and the women and children killed.

The mountain pass east of San Joaquin, leading to the Santa Rosa road, was described by the Americans who arrived on the day following the battle as a shambles, with Villa soldiers piled about like cordwood.

REORGANIZATION IS VILLA'S AIM.

LEADER EXPECTS TO JOIN HIS FORCES WITH THOSE OF ZAPATA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
EL PASO (Tex.) Dec. 12.—Reorganization of the Villa forces and the development of a campaign against the remnants of Gen. Jose Rodriguez in Chihuahua, Durango and Coahuila, will begin at Chihuahua City this week, according to authoritative sources today.

The campaign is to be directed against the forces of Luis Herrera and Juan Trevino, the former in Chihuahua and the latter in the cities of Durango, Torreon and Zacatecas. It is expected to be assisted by Zapata's forces now en route northward from Mexico City, by the remnants of Gen. Casas Grandes, and by the command now straggling into Chihuahua from Sonora.

Gen. Felipe Ayala, Governor of Chihuahua City by Gen. Villa and ordered to lead a body of troops in the winter campaign, according to the sources.

Gen. Richardson of San Jose is being sent by Street Car while on his way to a funeral.

SAN JOSE, Dec. 12.—Alphus Richardson, a California pioneer, was of men at good work in this city yesterday and killed while on his way to the funeral of his old friend, Stephen A. Jones, father of the late Senator Herbert C. Jones.

Richardson is survived by three unmarried daughters, Mrs. J. H. Richardson of Tuba City, N. Y., and G. A. of Byron, and Mrs. H. A. of San Jose.

leading freight cars were reduced to a mere junk heap.

The accident was due to the freight train pulling part way out on the main line in order to back some of its cars into a siding where an icing plant is located. Just beyond the siding is a sharp curve and the passenger train, going at the rate of about a mile a minute, rounded the curve within a few hundred yards of the heavy freight.

Some of the passengers say they did not feel the application of the brakes, the shutting off of the air or any checking of the speed of the train until the crash came.

It was ascertained tonight that Louis Spaulding, the mail clerk, who was earlier reported as having had a miraculous escape from injury when the mail car overturned, suffered a fractured rib. Mrs. M. Heavin of Kingman, Ariz., was dazed by the shock and was removed to a hospital for treatment where her condition is said to be not serious.

MINNESOTA NEAR PORT.

Vessel was Nearly Ninety Miles from the Bay When Last Reported. Strong Wind is Helping the Tugs Bring the Disabled Steamer into Harbor.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 12.—The disabled steamer Minnesota, which is being towed to this port and whose disablement will be the subject of a federal inquiry when the vessel arrives, was eighty-eight miles south of here at 8 o'clock tonight with a south-east gale behind her helping the tugs, according to a wireless message received by C. W. Wiley, marine superintendent of the Great Northern Steamship Company.

The message from Capt. Garlick, master of the Minnesota, indicated that the tugs would have the crippled freighter off this port about 11 o'clock tomorrow morning and in the harbor soon after, unless weather conditions made it advisable to anchor outside.

The Minnesota left Seattle November 14 for London and was forced to put back December 1 on account of machinery trouble, the origin of which has not yet been explained.

SUFFRAGE FUNDS ARE FLOWING IN.

FORTY-ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS RAISED AT MASS MEETING IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—More than $41,000 was raised in fifteen minutes at a mass meeting held here today by the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage, in connection with its annual convention. The money will be used to finance the work of organizing for a nation-wide campaign to secure the passage of the Susan B. Anthony suffrage amendment by the present Congress.

The largest individual contribution was that of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, who pledged $10,000 for the New York delegation. The meeting was called in honor of Miss Frances Joliffe and Mrs. Sara Hard Field, western women, who motored across the continent with a monster petition to Congress for a suffrage amendment.

WOMAN KILLED BY BLACK HAND.

WIFE OF ST. LOUIS ITALIAN IS SLAIN WITHIN SHADOW OF POLICE STATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
ST. LOUIS, Dec. 12.—A murder attributed to "Black Hand agents" was committed today within the shadow of a police station here. Mrs. Genevieve Dimaria, 34 years old, was strangled and beaten to death with a hammer, presumably by writers of letters which had demanded "your money or your blood" of Lorenzo Dimaria, husband of the murdered woman.

Seven such letters written in Italian and signed "Black Hand" were received by Dimaria. Each demanded "$400 or your head." Dimaria told the police he went to a butcher shop this morning and that his wife boiled the door after he left.

When he returned he found the door had been pried off by a crow bar, which the murderer had abandoned, and Mrs. Dimaria's body was found on the bed.

tro-Hungarian Admiralty has been brought to the attention of the government of the United States and received careful consideration. This statement substantially confirms the principal declaration of the survivors, as it admits that the Ancona after being shelled, was torpedoed and sunk while persons were still on board.

The Austro-Hungarian government has been advised, through the correspondence which has passed between the United States and Germany, of the attitude of the government of the United States as to the use of submarines in attacking vessels of commerce, and the acquiescence of Germany in that attitude, yet without full knowledge on the part of the Austro-Hungarian government of the views of the government of the United States as expressed in no uncertain terms to the ally of Austria-Hungary, the commander of the submarine which attacked the Ancona failed to put in a place of safety the crew and passengers of the vessel which they purposed to destroy, because, it is presumed, of the impossibility of taking it into port as a prize of war.

The government of the United States considers that the commander violated the principles of international law and of humanity by shelling and torpedoing the Ancona before the persons on board had been put in a place of safety or even given sufficient time to leave the vessel. The commander of the submarine can only be characterized as a wanton slaughterer of defenseless noncombatants since, at the time when the vessel was shelled and torpedoed, she was not, it appears, resisting or attempting to escape; and no other reason is sufficient to excuse such an attack, not even the possibility of rescue.

The government of the United States, therefore, is forced to conclude either that the commander of the submarine acted in violation of his instructions or that the imperial and royal government failed to issue instructions to commanders of its submarines in accordance with the law of nations and the principles of humanity. The government of the United States is unwilling to believe the latter alternative and to credit the Austro-Hungarian government with an intention to permit its submarines to destroy the lives of helpless men, women and children. It prefers to believe that the commander of the submarine committed this outrage without authority and contrary to the general or special instructions which he had received.

As the good relations of the two countries must be a common regard for law and humanity, the government of the United States cannot be expected to do otherwise than to demand that the deed be punished; and that reparation by the payment of indemnity be made for the citizens of the United States who were killed or injured by the attack on the vessel.

The government of the United States expects that the Austro-Hungarian government, appreciating the gravity of the deed, will accede to its demand promptly; and it rests this expectation on the belief that the Austro-Hungarian government will not sanction or defend an act which is condemned by the world as inhuman and barbarous, which is abhorrent to all civilized nations, and which has caused the death of innocent American citizens.

"LANEING."

SENSE AT CAPITAL.
Consideration of the text of the note overshadowed all else in official and diplomatic circles in Washington today. Everywhere information was awaiting indicating how the communication was received by the Vienna government and what effect it might have upon public opinion in Austria-Hungary.

The course the United States will pursue is understood to have been determined upon. The issue is clearly defined. A reasonable time will be given Austria-Hungary in which to reply to the communication. If no further action is taken, the word "prompt" as used in the note is understood to mean that Austria-Hungary must accede to the demand of the United States within a week at the most. If the demand is not complied with, immediate severance of diplomatic relations is regarded as certain.

COGNIZANT IN AUSTRIA.

The statement in the note that the Austro-Hungarian government had been advised through correspondence which passed between the United States and Germany of the attitude of the United States toward submarine warfare, is based upon the knowledge that the Austrian Embassy here was fully cognizant of everything that passed between Washington and Berlin.

Although in some quarters it was thought that the Austrian government would reply that the commander of the submarine exceeded or disregarded his instructions, it was pointed out that the official statement of the Austro-Hungarian Admiralty in regard to the sinking of the Ancona apparently attempted to justify the actions of the submarine by stating that the steamer tried to escape and that a vessel was approaching when the

SITUATION COMPLICATED.

The situation between the two countries is complicated by the facts which have been brought to the attention of the State Department in connection with the investigation of Austrian consular and diplomatic officials.

These cases involving Alexander von Nuber, Consul-General at New York; Baron Erich Zweidnek, charge of the Austrian Embassy here, and other officials, still were under consideration.

It was said tonight that it was probably that decision might not be reached until some indication was received of the position of the Austro-Hungarian government in regard to the Ancona demands.

The breaking off of diplomatic relations with Austria-Hungary, aside from all other considerations, would be deplored here, because it would mean the recalling of Frederick C. Penfield, American Ambassador at Vienna, who is being regarded as engaged in a great work in the cause of humanity in the war zone.

CRUISER EMDEN STILL ON BEACH.

AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT AND SALVAGE CONCERN UNABLE TO AGREE.

(A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.)

MELBOURNE (Australia) Oct. 2.—The salvaging of the wreck of the German cruiser Emden, which was beached upon Keeling Island of the Cocos group in the Indian Ocean after defeat by the Australian cruiser Sydney, last November is again in question. The Minister for the Navy has given the Sydney firm, which some months ago made the lowest bid for the removal of the hulk, until October 6, in which to decide whether it will accept the government's conditions.

The firm offered $20,000 for the right to take possession of what remains of the Emden and bring it to Australia. It also wanted permission to retain the vessel for eighteen months in order that she might be placed on exhibition throughout the world. The Navy Department would not agree to this proposal, fearing complications, but if the firm were successful in bringing the vessel to Australia, the Federal government would pay the wreckers a fair amount for their work, and if they were dissatisfied with the amount offered, the matter would be settled by arbitration.

(A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.)

PEKING, Oct. 25.—Not more than 100 British Indians remain in the employ of Germans in China, according to Sir John Jordan, the British Minister in Peking. These British subjects are chiefly in the employ of German firms at Shanghai and Hankow, about half of them being in each place.

Col. Yate, a Conservative member of the British House of Commons, recently asked for information concerning these British subjects, who worked for German firms in Chinese ports. Lord Robert Cecil, Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, sent a message to Sir John Jordan, who replied as stated.

ZEPPELINS AS AID TO SHOPPING.

(A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.)

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Zeppelins have been more effective arguments for shopping early than all the pleas ever framed by the Merchants' Association and Salesmen's Unions of London. One of the largest department stores in the city now closes at 5 p.m. The others close at 6 and 6:30 o'clock, depending on their location. But late shoppers are becoming fewer, while morning shoppers have increased materially. Darkened streets, besides keeping people home at night, have hurt the business of cheap jewelers and of shops whose sales depend largely on their window displays and electric lights.

SEE WILSON AS AN ENEMY.

German Press Comments on the President's Acts.

Declares He Shows Partiality to the British.

Recall of Attacks Pictured as Unfriendly Move.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

BERLIN (via London) Dec. 12.—The Berlin morning papers print a special wireless dispatch from New York to the semi-official Wolff Bureau, stating that public opinion in America is greatly stirred against Germany by the alleged German attacks on American neutrality and against ammunition factories and by reason of the disclosure at the trial of Germans recently held in New York newspapers as saying that some of the Congressmen intend to ask for a rupture of diplomatic relations.

The Voelische Zeitung publishes the dispatch with the headline: "American Incitation Against Germany," and comments as follows: "It was to be expected that at the convening of Congress the United States would make every effort to bring about a new excitement against Germany in order to distract the attention of Congress from the question of British pressure on Austria. This also President Wilson's interest."

Several of the other papers use similar headlines, with the "Hetz" which is a hunting cry against Germany, describing the setting of a trap on its prey.

Only a few of the papers print news of the possible demand of the United States for the recall of Ambassador von Nuber, Austrian Consul-General at New York. The Morgen Post, however, makes it a leading front-page article and comments:

"Mr. Wilson rages among our diplomats. Thus he preserves the neutrality which we miss from him as soon as it is a case of the British or the French."

SARCASTIC COMMENT.

The Morgen Post also publishes a message to the Wolff bureau, signed Secretary Lansing as saying that the recall of Capt. Boy-Ed and Capt. Papen, the naval and military attaches, respectively, of the German Embassy at Washington, has no political background. The Morgen Post comments sarcastically: "Mr. Wilson simply wanted to get two officers a favor by helping them to return to their beloved home. Perhaps the ministers, who have been shed over German-American, are from the sea of his love for everything that is German."

The Morgen Post considers the American note in the Ancona case as a further "Hetz." The Voelische Zeitung says of the Lansing message:

"If the demand for the recall of the attaches has no practical background it is an unfriendly act, its purpose is to offend the President Wilson's general policy toward Germany."

Count Von Reventlow, in the Tagesspiegel, has a leader headed "Wilson's Policy Toward Germany." He says it is impossible to draw the question fully because the conditions between Germany and the United States have recently been carried on secretly and because existing regulations forbid the publication of certain questions. He declares that the American wishes in various directions have been complied with by Germany to the fullest extent possible.

"One is astonished to learn from a New York dispatch to the Bureau that the 'Lantern' has been not yet fully settled."

WILSON'S ATTITUDE.

Count Von Reventlow declares the press campaign against Germany is in line with Mr. Wilson's attitude. Although indignant criticism of alleged German attacks is of recent date and continues:

"One might almost assume that the Wilsonian attitude is not only not win the German-American sentiment for himself; however, it abandons further attempts to influence German-American as the enemy's enemies, according to the rule, 'now give it to him who has been out of his mind.' Mr. Roosevelt, who for Roosevelt has always been a rupture of relations with Germany."

Count Von Reventlow says that the feeling of general opinion among Germans over President Wilson's language and the tone of the great part of the American press have been going on since the meeting of the wishes of the United States.

The Lokal Anzeiger and Kreuzzeitung comment on the Ancona note. The Lokal Anzeiger while casting doubt on the veracity of the summary of the note as here, remarks:

"If true, then President Wilson grossly violates international law whose guardian he pretends to be. Much more serious, we admit, is the diplomatists of the White House, if we must await the following Ancona note before the President, himself, orders the withdrawal of his troops from the sea."

"If the dispatch from New York will be so kind as to describe the trick of bringing into the waters of a ship lying in wait, the pursuit by fleet submarines, precisely the same as the old type of warships of the sea, and even have the pretense of attacking the existing situation of international law."

The Kreuzzeitung comments on the Wilsonian action as "a bitter disappointment" and that after the settlement of the case and the withdrawal of the American policy from the German case, England, American policy, more pronounced against Germany, adhere to our view of the world. The paper is far from done with the matter, moreover, need come to the fore."

REDUCE DEFICIT CAUSED BY WAR.

*Postmaster-General Burleson
on Our System of Mails.*

Parcel Post Business Shows Remarkable Expansion.

*Many Lotteries Suppressed

[BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12. — Postmaster-General Burleson's annual report made public last night says the European war has cost the American postal service $21,000,000, but that economies of administration have reduced the audited deficit to a little more than $11,000,000 for the fiscal year which ended last June. Considerations of service, the report says, were placed above all others and notwithstanding adverse revenue conditions — expansion, invasions, of postal facilities continued. Had it not been for economical reorganization begun before the war started, the deficit would have been much larger. General says the audited deficit would have been at least $24,000,000. Of the total deficit, however, his analysis shows that only $10,000,000 was due to the war, the rest of that all but a little more than $20,000 was the result of increases of postal salaries and additional railway mail pay.

NEW PROPOSAL.

Chief among recommendations to Congress are a renewal of previous proposals for a change from the present system of first-class postage to the railroads for carrying mail; a renewal of recommendations for government ownership of telegraphs and telephones; a continuation of the four-pound limit on first-class mail; and the adoption of more liberal limitations on the weight and insurance of postal parcels.

The greatest expansion in the post-office, the report shows, was in the parcel post. Statistics gathered from thirty principal postoffices show it to be by far all the most profitable business, and that more than a billion parcels are being transported every year. Before the parcel post was established, more than three-fourths of the parcels were handled. The amount of postage collected from that source approached $10,000,000 during the first fifteen days of October this year alone.

BOMBED POSTAL BANKS.

While the war has crippled the money order system it has boomed the postal savings banks. The number of these banks has increased and the amount deposited exceeded any year since the banks were established. More than a half million depositors were on the gain of thirty-five per cent. for the year and they had on deposit nearly $65,000,000, a gain of more than fifty per cent. for the year. As to deposits in some cities was remarkable. They increased in New York, 199 per cent. Bridgeport, Ct., 148 per cent.; Brooklyn, 137 per cent.; Hartford, 126 per cent.; Jersey City, 123 per cent.; Detroit, 112 per cent. Other cities showed gains ranging from fifty to 100 per cent. Of the 1,000 cities more than fifty-eight per cent. were foreign born and they had more than seventy-one per cent. of the total deposits. The figures are representative as showing plainly the attraction of the postal banks to the immigrant.

FRAUDS SUPPRESSED.

The activities of the Postoffice Department in suppressing fraudulent use of the mails are well known. A report says the department is working in close co-operation with those interested in purifying advertising columns of the mails. Of the 15,000 to 17,000 concerns or persons were banished from the mails and 1500 lotteries were barred out.

The Postoffice Department way mail robbery, which is one of spirited controversies between the Postoffice Department and the railways. The Postmaster-General has been very candid in describing the situation as acute and urgent, pressing for immediate adjustment, but expresses regret that the railway companies have not been killed in the last Congress.

POSTOFFICE NATIONAL WEALTH.

The United States is the One Country that is Gaining While Europe Seems Near a Cataclysm.

The amazing expenses of the making war has naturally led to discussion of the wealth of nations previous to the initial declaration of hostilities. The estimate of the wealth of the world at that time in billions of dollars and without premonition of the cataclysm so near at hand, was that value of the world's wealth was $150,000,000,000; the United Kingdom, $25,000,000,000; Germany, $30,000,000,000; France, $35,000,000,000; the United States, $20,000,000,000; Italy, $20,000,000,000, and Belgium $9,000,000,000.

What precedence can estimate the wealth of these nations after the war, leaving the dominant United States aside, the one country of the Occident which is gaining immensely while the others are losing? Is it in the life and industry? Finance is always something of a mystery, even to financiers, but assuredly the wealth of warring nations at the close of the war was not "in the lap of the gods." Those European values will almost inevitably be as chaotic as at the time of the 1914-1918 war, when the earth was without form and void."

Costly Emergency Money.

[New York Commercial:] London is said to be displaced at the high rate of interest on the Anglo-French loan floated in New York. London did not hesitate to borrow the money for the war or more ago after the currency run on the Bank of England had depleted its gold reserves in the first week of the settlement in gold from all the rest of the world. Some debtors or nations declared moratoriums to evade payment, but the bond. New York City paid 6 per cent. for $500,000,000.

000,000 gold to meet its obligations in London and Paris. Great Britain and France are now paying a trifle less to avoid having to ship gold to New York.

The boot is on the other leg. The United States is now a creditor nation and New York is the money center of the world.

Hyphenated Citizenship Again.

[Florida Times-Union:] The war in the Balkans has now narrowed down to something very like a duel between a German Queen of Greece and an English Queen of Rumania. Here again we see the danger of hyphenated citizenship.

RESCUE ANGLERS

FROM BREAKERS.

RUDDER LOST AND BOAT HELPLESS BEYOND BREAKWATER AT VENICE.

VENICE, Dec. 12.—Two fishermen are recovering today from the effects of a harrowing experience they had when their boat was wrecked in sight of hundreds of pleasure-seekers on the Windward-avenue pier.

The fishermen, David Hastings and Abe Joe Anderson, started out yesterday afternoon in a skiff for deep-water fishing. They made their way south of the Kinney breakwater near the end of the pier. As they got out a short distance from the breakwater the boat swung about suddenly. The rudder shifted and was lost.

The waves, which were heavy, drove the boat against the breakwater. As they approached the breakwater they plunged in and managed to climb on top of the rocks, made slippery by the water. The water washed over them.

Two guards, Abe McCullum and Harry White, put out in a lifeboat. On account of the waves they had to go out on the ocean side of the breakwater and come back. As they approached the breakwater, the fishermen's skiff crashed against the rocks.

They threw a rope to the two helpless men and the watching crowd gasped as the two fishermen grasped it and plunged into the water again. Nearly exhausted, they were pulled on board and taken to the Venice plunge for treatment. Later they were removed to their homes here.

LXXXVTH YEAR.

The Final Tragedy.

VOTED IMPRESARIO, IN DESPAIR, KILLS SELF.

Ernest Goerlitz Takes Poison and Then Blows His Brains Out.

Former Manager of the Metropolitan and Manhattan Operahouses, Brooding Over Ill-health, Recent Death of a Friend and Failure to Hear from Relatives at German Front, Commits Suicide in Hotel Room.

ERNEST GOERLITZ, former general manager of the Metropolitan and Manhattan operahouses, New York, and for years a commanding figure in the operatic world, committed suicide yesterday morning in a room of the Hollenbeck Hotel, New York, by shooting himself through the head.

Ernest Goerlitz, 40 years of age, was born in Berlin, Germany, and came to this country in 1902. He was a native of the German Empire and had been in the United States for about thirteen years.

Goerlitz was a well-known figure in the operatic world, having been general manager of the Metropolitan and Manhattan operahouses, New York, and for years a commanding figure in the operatic world.

HUNDRED FORTY-TWO YEARS.

That is Aggregate Age of Minister and the Bride He Took Yesterday. Both Active Church Workers.

In a quiet home wedding yesterday, Rev. Timothy Tetreault, 73 years of age, married Mrs. Correll M. Sturtevant, aged 29 years, in his home at No. 2475 Lorena place, Rev. Homer Lee of the People's Church, performing the ceremony. Only relative and intimate friends of the two principals were present.

The wedding is the result of a romance that began about three years ago following the death of the bride's former husband. The groom who is an active church worker and has for many years been connected with the French missionary societies of the Baptist church met the then Mrs. Sturtevant in connection with his church work and the two rapidly became the best of friends. Later the friendship blossomed into romance and much to the surprise of many friends they announced their intention to wed.

Some twenty or thirty were present at the ceremony yesterday. Rev. Mr. Tetreault came here about nine years ago from Rhode Island. His bride formerly lived at Grand Rapids, Minn., and has been here a little more than three years. She has been living at No. 1888 Echo Park avenue. The two will make their home at the Lorena place address.

OBSERVE PRAYER WEEK.

Advertisers All Over the World Participate in Daily Devotions, to End Next Saturday.

Seventh-day Adventists throughout the world are observing their annual week of prayer, which is held every winter. Beginning last Saturday, services have been held daily, and will be held each day this week in the Adventist church from Lapland to Argentina and from London to Shanghai, except where the war interferes with such meetings. Leading ministers of the denomination have prepared special uniform readings to be delivered in all the churches during the prayer week, and readers have been appointed to give these. The various conferences on the Pacific Coast have given special attention to the arrangements for this season.

The writers of the eight readings which will be given are as follows: A. G. Daniels, president of the General Conference; I. H. Evans, president of the North American Division Conference; J. T. Boettcher, president of the Russian Union Conference; J. E. Fulton, secretary-treasurer of the Asiatic Division Conference; W. T. Knox, treasurer, General Conference; E. E. Andrews of Glendale, president, Pacific Union Conference, and the late Mrs. E. G. White.

A supper in his honor will be given by the men of the Baptist churches of the city next Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock at Christopher's. This supper will really be a "get together" rally of Baptist men for the purpose of considering the interests of the Baptist churches of Southern California and to lay plans for a large attendance at the laymen's missionary movement convention to be held in Los Angeles February 27 to March 1, inclusive.

At the gathering next Thursday evening addresses will be made by Dr. James A. Francis, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and Dr. J. Whitcomb Brouwer, pastor of Temple Baptist Church. Dr. A. W. Rider, secretary of the South Pacific district for home and foreign missions, will be the toastmaster.

SHOTS RIDDLE WIFE-SLAYER.

Capture Made After Battle that Raged Two Hours.

Japanese, Gravely Wounded, Falls Still Fighting.

Dies After Confession that He Planned Slaughter.

Fighting even after he fell to the ground with seven bullets in his body, Kozoro Fukuda, a Japanese rancher who late yesterday afternoon shot and killed his wife, was captured early last night near his ranch four miles east of Huntington Park. Deputy Sheriff Fox, Nolan, Moodie, Strong and Anderson fired a score of shots each before Fukuda dropped the two revolvers with which he stood off the officers for two hours.

Taken to the County Hospital in the Sheriff's automobile, Fukuda was placed upon the operating table, but was past hope and died at midnight. Just before he died, he made a brief statement, admitting he killed his wife and declaring he intended slaying her cousin, who harbored her, and the cousin's wife. He said he also planned to kill all the officers, who went to arrest him, and then take his own life.

The murder of Mrs. Fukuda was plotted by her husband for two days, Deputy Sheriff Anderson declared last night. Fukuda after shooting his wife five times as she stood in the doorway of a ranch house near Slauson and Compton avenues, walked back to his home and there ordered his two Japanese ranch hands into the house locked himself in with them. Then he waited for the officers with his revolver in each hand.

As the sheriff's officers surrounded the house on the lonely ranch Fukuda driving the two Japanese before him, rushed out and fired at the officers until he was killed. Fukuda dropped to the ground. Then just as the crazed rancher raised his weapon several of the officers fired despite the bullets in his body Fukuda loaded and fired his two revolvers several times, after he was no longer able to stand the wounded man sat upon the ground behind a large tree and held the officers at bay for some time. Although he was weak to walk into his revolver, Fukuda sank his teeth into Moodie's leg when the officers attempted to place him in the Sheriff's automobile.

According to the story told the officers by A. Kajima, a cousin of the dead woman, and on whose ranch the murder took place, Fukuda started the trouble with his wife early Friday morning. After a quarrel he drove her from home and she then came to the house of a neighbor by rancher and from there made her way to her cousin's house at Slauson and Compton avenues. Fukuda followed her and then he started to shoot her. He fired several times and then he started to shoot her.

Walking up to the front door of Kajima's home, Fukuda knocked. The door was opened by his wife, and with a revolver in each hand and opened fire. The woman fell with five bullets in her body and Fukuda walked away. Notified by Kajima, Sheriff Cline at once ordered a posse out to capture the rancher. According to Deputy Sheriff Anderson, who was in charge of the posse, Fukuda gave them no warning when they arrived at the house. Just after they surrounded the building Fukuda stepped out of the front door driving his two men ahead of him. The two Japanese ranchhands dropped to the ground and crawled out of range before any shots were fired.

During their investigations the officers were unable to learn what started the trouble between Fukuda and his wife. He was taken to the County Hospital in the Sheriff's automobile, Fukuda was placed upon the operating table, but was past hope and died at midnight. Just before he died, he made a brief statement, admitting he killed his wife and declaring he intended slaying her cousin, who harbored her, and the cousin's wife. He said he also planned to kill all the officers, who went to arrest him, and then take his own life.

CROWDS FIND THAT BIG SHOW
BRISTLES WITH FUN.

Tail "Coppette" and Leading Midjet Entertain Among Many Interesting Attractions—Holiday Programme for Little Ones Being Arranged.

More than 5000 big and little folks enjoyed the riot of fun yesterday at the Los Angeles Prosperity Carnival and Indoor Fair, which will continue for the next thirty days at No. 229 South Broadway, the old Boston Store building.

According to the committee in charge the show is the biggest of its kind ever given in this city and will be larger. Scores of the principal amusement features that were at the San Francisco exposition are among the leading attractions.

From early yesterday afternoon until late at night the merry-making crowds participated in the festivities, visited the Wild West show; listened to the sweet and dreamy music of the Hawaiian band; were entertained by the popular residents of Midway City and had a delightful time viewing the attractive displays in the exhibit booths.

Maxwell Barrett Giesburg, the inventor of the symphonette, gave an interesting concert with this novel musical instrument. He was accompanied by Attiebury's band, which will give daily programmes during the carnival.

Mrs. Blanche Payson, who achieved prominence as the only police-woman at the San Francisco exposition, was one of the stellar attractions at the fair yesterday. In her "coppette" uniform she will be on her "beat" every day until the show closes.

Mrs. Payson is 21 years old, six feet, four inches tall, and weighs 224 pounds. She and Prince Ludwig, who is thirty-four inches tall and the foremost citizen in the midjet community, gave a special performance yesterday for the benefit of one of the moving picture operators at the carnival.

The Entertainment Committee is arranging an elaborate holiday programme for the kiddies. A big Christmas tree, laden with thousands of toys will soon be installed for the little folks. Santa Claus will have gifts for all the children who visit this wonderful indoor fair.

Hundreds of visitors will enjoy the special dance features in the tango room, where everything new in the terpsichorean world will be shown in daily performances by dance artists who have been brought here from different parts of the country for the carnival.

"Votes for women" was the battle cry yesterday of the participants in the queen contest. In addition to the crown to be given the winner of this contest, at the big coronation ball which will close the fair, a valuable prize will be awarded.

The standing of the contestants yesterday was as follows: Miss Jewel Egan, 7150; Miss Elsie Charlotte Pfenning, 5900; Miss Jane Greene, 4225; Miss Isabel Wagoner, 2420; Miss Vera Paulding, 1610; Miss Nora Snyder, 1465; Miss Maxie Clifton, 1280; Miss Minnette Bolles, 1050, and Miss Margaret Hogan, 1000.

TWENTY-TWO MILLIONS CONDEMNATION PRICE.

Expert Appraisal of Edison Company Property Staggering Total.

Severance Damages Claimed by Corporation Placed by Eastern Authorities at Thirteen or Fourteen Millions, Physical Equipment and Franchises Nine More—Cash to Buy it a Little Over Five Million.

DEPOSITIONS filed with the State Railroad Commission by various authorities on electrical plants and distributing systems as part of the evidence upon which will be based the commission's valuation of the plant and property of the Southern California Edison Company, for condemnation purposes, place the total damages to the corporation at the staggering total of $22,000,000. Of this $13,000,000 (the lowest figure submitted) is for severance damages, $4,500,000 for franchises and $4,500,000 as the actual physical value of the property taken over.

After a delay for the purpose of securing this and other evidence, the city's condemnation action will be called again before Commissioner Edgerton in the Supreme Court rooms in the Bullard Building this morning. It is expected that Chief Engineer Richard Seabee, of the commission's staff, will today present the decision of the engineering department of the physical and franchise value of that part of the Edison system which the city desires to acquire as a vehicle for the carriage of aqueduct power.

The city has $5,250,000 in bonds or money, according to one way of figuring, or $4,500,000, according to another, with which to acquire the distributing system of the Edison company. The difference between the two sets of figures represents the estimated cost, approximately $750,000, of constructing systems to serve municipal power to the Hollywood-East Hollywood and Eastlake Park-Garvanza districts.

It is believed that the value the commission's engineering department will place on the Edison's physical property will not be far short of $4,500,000, which was the Board of Public Utilities' estimate some years ago when the question of rates was up.

Provided the value is in the neighborhood of these figures and provided the city only has to pay for the physical property of the Edison company, all will be well.

But the expert evidence indicates, according to the authorities, that compensation for physical property will pay but a small part in the ultimate decision, either in court or out.

BTG SEVERANCE DAMAGES.

One of these depositions, that of Dr. Henry C. Adams, former chief statistician of the Interstate Commerce Commission, places the "going" value of the Edison property, exclusive of physical value, at $4,500,000, while Samuel Insull, president of the Commonwealth Edison Company, Chicago, estimates severance damages at $13,000,000, and Charles L. Edgar, president of the Edison Electric Illuminating Company, Boston, at $14,000,000.

In other words, the city has $5,250,000 at the outside to purchase property that, rated as a "going" concern, is valued by experts at $9,000,000. This is assuming that $4,500,000 is a fair physical value of the plant. In addition, the city faces severance damages that the experts estimate at from $13,000,000 to $14,000,000.

Or, putting it another way, the experts figure that from $22,000,000 to $23,000,000 will be needed by the city to handle the Edison proposition. On the other hand, Chief Electric Engineer Seabee of the Bureau of Power and Light is so confident that $5,250,000 will be ample to consummate the Edison deal that he has recommended the subtracting of approximately $750,000 from this sum to build distributing lines in territory not served by the Southern California Edison Company, i.e. the Hollywood-East Hollywood and Eastlake Park-Garvanza districts.

City Attorney Stephens, Special Counsel Mathews of the Board of Public Service Commissioners, and Deputy City Attorney Himrod also reason to the effect that the "going" value of the Edison property will be cut several times before the court gets done with the case. Regarding franchise values, they point out, that through amendments to the city's original application, which were filed Saturday with the commission, the city stands ready to permit the Edison company to retain a sufficient co-partnership in franchises to assure the transmission of power across the city.

Provided the courts can see the matchless rights will be reduced many times, while severance charges will be cut to a minimum. The big question is, admittedly, are franchise rights divisible? The city says they are and the Edison company takes the contrary view.

MAY DROP THE ACTION.

As the State Railroad Commission, in its preliminary decision in this case, refused to pass on this intricate question, as the city desired, court proceedings are so sure that President Betkouski of the City Council stated last week that the process of paring will probably have to be resorted to by the city.

In other words, he intimated that there was a prospect of the city dropping the Edison case as leading nowhere. He stated, however, that the city's legal department, who assert that the case will be fought to a finish.

Summarized, according to the disinterested watchers of the case, about everything will depend on the State Railroad Commission's dictation on values. The city has asked for a valuation of all Edison distributing property and of selected franchises. The Edison company will probably take issue with the city on the question of the divisibility of franchises. But, by and large, what the commission finds on values will decide.

CROSS TO RISE
FROM BATTLES.Post-war Religious Revival Minister's Prediction.Differences All Welded by Patriotism in France.Huguenot Emissary Wins Aid for Church.

That the war in Europe has had the effect of creating a most intense patriotism in suffering France, whereby Catholic and Protestant, Jew and Moslem or materialist are all united in one common purpose, was the declaration of Dr. Stewart L. Roussel in an address in the First Congregational Church last night. But he further declared the present time is one of great significance in the religious life of France; that there has been a new turning away from materialism and a yearning, widely expressed in soldier and civilian life, for something higher and a simplification of the humanities as taught by the Christ. Dr. Roussel believes France, and probably all of warring Europe, is on the eve of a great revival of practical religion.

Dr. Roussel comes to the churches of America as the authorized representative of the French Reformed Church—the old Huguenot Church of France. This church has been through many vicissitudes since the beginning of the war, and finally it was decided to appeal to the churches of America to help it sustain its work. A liberal offering for this purpose was made at the meeting last evening.

The speaker illustrated his talk with many lantern slides—pictures of war-stricken France and peasant life as it now is; views of the wondrously beautiful Cathedral of Rheims; and scenes during its use as a hospital, and finally views after its destruction by German shells and by fire. The speaker is thoroughly familiar with all the points shown, having carried on his work there. He told of gathering the people in the catacombs, after their churches had been destroyed, and there holding divine services, and said that never had he ministered to a more devout congregation than that composed of these refugees.

A graphic description was given by the speaker of the effect on village life when the telegraphic message, August 1, 1914, was flashed along that general mobilization had begun. Every village immediately felt its effects. Economic conditions were upset. In the village where the speaker then was, the news was announced by the beating of a drum and then the reading of the proclamation. Dr. Roussel told of his own experiences, when with his daughter clinging to his hand, he went to the military headquarters, expecting to be compelled to start for the front, and then found he was one year over the age limit. Patriotic ardor on home life in these distressing times were given by the speaker—details about people he intimately knew.

"One person in ten was called," said the speaker. "Sixty-five per cent. of all the persons working in the factories had to lay down their work and take up arms. All men between the ages of 20 and 45 years were called to the colors. There was economic confusion and heart-ache immeasurable.

"The economic disturbance was a terrible blow to the French Reformed Church. Then came the destruction of villages and the added burdens of war times; but by co-operation of the churches scattered throughout France, they have been able so far to keep some semblance of ministrations for every Huguenot settlement. Church walls lie in heaps; the manes have been burned to ashes—but the spirit of unity is undaunted, and France is more ready than ever before for the ministrations of the Protestant Church."

The speaker told of the strangeness of the streets in Paris, because of the lack of vehicles, saying autos and the busses have practically all gone north to carry supplies and to bring southward the injured soldiers. He told of buildings that stand half-completed, just as they have been for the past year or more, and various other things that show how the war has paralyzed normal conditions.

CANADA DEPRESSED BY WAR.

General Business is Greatly Decreased, and Thousands of Houses are Standing Tenantless.

[Washington Post:] "The extent to which Canada has suffered by reason of the European war can only be appreciated by a visit to the dominion and observation of the conditions," remarked F. A. Rutherford, of Detroit, Mich., at the Raleigh. "It is seen in the reduced staffs of the big railway and other corporations; in the thousands of men seeking admission to the home guards, which promises no glory, but pays $1.10 a day; the thousands of empty houses in Toronto; in the deficit of about $2,000,000 that the city of Montreal is facing; in Quebec, where real estate has depreciated greatly in value, but most of all it is observable in the official reports.

"A short time ago I read a report made by the Department of Trade and Commerce, which disclosed that in the last year imports had fallen from close to $600,000,000 to less than $450,000,000, a drop of nearly 20 per cent. This is explained by the cutting off of trade with Germany and signing of the war, had been increasing rapidly and had actually quadrupled between 1905 and 1912.

"Notwithstanding the people of Canada have had to pay dearly for being a possession of Great Britain, there is the most intense loyalty on the part of Canadians for the mother country. Canada has given the best of her youth to help fight England's battles. Proportionately the dominion has done more than England, for in a population of less than 7,000,000 approximately 150,000 soldiers have been sent to the allied armies, whereas England has contributed, according to reports, not to exceed 1,000,000 men. But there is no complaint, and Canada will continue to give of her blood and wealth until this terrible war is over."

THE SULTANS OF JAVA.

Are Really Dutch Political Prisoners but Appear to be Reigning in Regal Splendor.

[World's Work:] Among oriental monarchs none maintain such gorgeous courts as those little known sovereigns, the Sultans of Solo and the Sultan of Djokja, Java's two remaining native rulers. Surrounded by hordes of strangely uniformed retainers, dancers and bearers of fan and umbrella, pipe and betel box, the courts of these rulers present an extraordinary spectacle that recalls a comic opera on a colossal scale. The monarchs referred to only rule in name, for the whole island of Java is in possession of the Dutch and is entirely governed by them. Indeed, these native kings are virtually political prisoners in their own extensive palace grounds, for they are not even allowed to receive visitors or to undertake a journey without the consent of the Dutch resident. Nevertheless they wield considerable influence and maintain their courts with all the barbaric splendor of medieval days, jealously observing customs that date back 500 years and more.

Sultan Djoelana, more commonly called Solo and Djokja, where these courts are situated, are the capitals of the two middle states of Java. The rulers of these provinces were the last to yield to the overseas usurpers, and as tributary princes enjoying a "protected and controlled independence" in the person of a Dutch resident, who sits at their sovereign's elbow and by "suggestions" rules their territories for the greater good of the natives and the Dutch.

Exchequer. All the region around Djokja and Solo is classic ground, and the oldest Javanese myths and legends, the earliest traditions of native life, have their locale hereabouts. As a result, Djokja and Solo have been the least affected by contact with western methods and here Javanese life has remained virtually unchanged.

Canada's Interest Drain. Militaristic Demand Making Annual Charges Five Dollars per Head Doubles Debt.

[Detroit Free Press:] One cannot but admire the zeal of our Canadian friends in their sacrifices for the great war in which they are engaged, but it is none the less disquieting to read of the cost it is imposing upon them. The Ottawa government's statement that the interest charge in connection with expenditures for the last year and those contemplated for fresh undertakings will amount to more than $15,000,000 annually must be especially serious to the people of the Dominion. It means that the burden of debt is fully doubled by this militaristic demand.

Canada already had a public debt of close to half a billion dollars when the war began, and it was paying on interest to the amount of $14,500,000 a year upon it. Multiply this by two as seems now to be proposed, and the weight resting upon each one of the six and a half million inhabitants of the country would be serious. It would mean that every man, woman and child must pay $5 a year in interest alone, without reducing in the least the principal of the indebtedness they have assumed. By a family of four $20 annually must be given up on account of governmental needs—and that before any account is taken of the ordinary and unceasing requirements for conducting the affairs of the country.

Amity. PEACE HERALD FROM ORIENT.

"MORGAN OF JAPAN" ARRIVES ON FRIENDLY MISSION.

Many Wait at Station Till Small Hours, While Delayed Train Brings Baron Shibusawa, Who With His Party Will Be Much Entertained Here Today.

Baron Shibusawa, to greet whom many Los Angeles Japanese had waited at La Grande station for hours, arrived on a belated train at 1:30 o'clock this morning. He avoided interviews and was escorted at once to the Alexandria.

Because of a washout on the Santa Fe in Arizona, Baron Yei-Ichi Shibusawa, leading financier of Japan and sometimes known as the "Morgan of the Orient," did not arrive in Los Angeles as expected last night, although he was due early yesterday afternoon and plans had been made for his entertainment.

Early this morning many Japanese, including a reception committee, still waited at La Grande Station for the arrival of the belated train that bore the Baron. He was to be escorted at once to the Alexandria by the committee, which included U. Oyama, Japanese Vice-Consul; Z. Yamaoka, president of the Japanese Association; N. Toyama, K. Taniguchi, Dr. J. Tanaka, Dr. T. How and Y. Hattori. The Baron's party includes twenty-eight persons.

The Santa Fe announced the late train would arrive later in the morning. Baron Shibusawa will leave this evening for San Francisco. Today, however, will be filled with events in honor of his visit.

This morning he will be taken for an automobile drive through the city, accompanied by members of his party, and the vice-consul and Reception Committee. At noon a luncheon will be given in his honor at the Alexandria by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Immediately thereafter a public reception will be tendered him at the Japanese Association headquarters on Alameda street, near Jackson, and thereafter a private reception, at the home of Vice-Consul Oyama.

In view of existing conditions, the visit of Baron Shibusawa to the United States is regarded as significant. He states that one of his missions here is to discuss affairs in connection with the proposed International Sunday-school Congress to be held in Tokyo at the close of the war. But that he is intensely interested in the great conflict and in the outlook for peace was indicated by his remarks.

Baron Shibusawa, who is 75 years of age, has immense influence as a private citizen in his own country, and through his efforts it is said there has been an active campaign to suppress "Jingoism" in Japan. His mission here is declared purely one of good will.

LAND CLAIMS SIFTED AT TWENTY RIVAL PICNICS.

BEING with each other for personal possession of visiting Federal officers, the twenty claimants to the south half of Section 17, Township 4 North, Range 15 West, passed an industrious afternoon yesterday trying to show the land officials how much progress each one had made. For the decision of Register Roche and Receiver Mitchell of the local Land Office depends to a large extent upon the results of the personal inspection made by these officials yesterday to determine which of the many contestants are entitled to the valuable land.

At the close of the busy day the land officers left the vicinity of Saugus, where the tract is located, with plenty of data upon which to base their decision. But this will not be handed down for two or three weeks yet, so the claimants probably have another month in which to bear with one another.

CALLAHAN IS NOW A MYSTERY.

Should be in Chicago with Johnny Powers.

Supposed to be in this City Running Angels.

Last Heard of in El Paso
Shaking Hands.

H-i-s-t-o-r-y! Has anybody seen Callahan? The same being spoken or written in a stage whisper.

All of a sudden the new Angel manager has become imbedded in a deep and opaque mystery.

He was supposed to be in Chicago. At least, that is what President Powers supposed when he left for the East four days since. Ostensibly he was going there to converse with Callahan, talk over plans for the future, buy a few ball players and attend the American League meeting with Callahan in that city December 14 and 15.

But about the time that Johnny was due to drop his baggage off at the Polk and Dearborn station, some dots and dashes began to dribble off the telegraph wire from El Paso, stating that James J. Callahan was in that city en route to Los Angeles. Several hours later there were more dots and dashes, and from this it was learned that James J. had rowed across the Rio Grande and was giving the ponies at Juarez the double O. Thus the plot thickened.

COMBED. All the well-known hotels were combed here last night in an effort to find a trace of the new manager. He had not scratched his monkey on any of the registers, and the night clerks were able to supply nothing more enlightening than a blank stare.

Efforts to locate Powers and Callahan by wire last night resulted only in a few telegraph tolls.

Further complicating the happy situation were vague intimations among baseball men here that there had been a misunderstanding or a disagreement between Powers and Callahan. The latter, it is said, took Bob Fisher, the Cub shortstop, under an optional agreement. Prior to this Powers went on record publicly as opposed to any agreements of this kind. Again, there may have been some hitch in the plan whereby Callahan was to buy Darnold's baseball stock. It hardly seems conceivable that there has been any serious hitch in the plans by which Callahan is to take over the Los Angeles management, or that Powers and Callahan have had a disagreement, and yet there is a strange atmosphere of mystery about their movements and whereabouts, which some regard as significant.

The following dispatch from El Paso but serves to add to the situation:

ONLY WORD. "Jimmy Callahan arrived here Thursday afternoon from Chicago. Upon his arrival at the Paso del Norte he asked for Powers, of Los Angeles, and inquired for telegrams from him. He announced to his baseball friends here that he was going to Los Angeles to take charge of the Pacific Coast League club."

"According to Manager Jack Egan, of the Del Norte, Callahan again asked Friday for Powers and then shook hands with a man who had just arrived on the afternoon train from the West and left with him. Callahan checked out later in the afternoon without leaving a forwarding address for his mail and telegrams and it was thought that he went on to Los Angeles as he first announced."

"It is possible that the man he met here was Powers and he may have returned with him to Chicago. He is not in El Paso as he checked out and paid his bill Friday afternoon."

Will somebody kindly page the house for Sherlock Holmes.

MIDDLE WEST IS RATHER PEEVED

FINDS FAULT WITH CAMP'S
ALL-AMERICAN.

Figure that Far-easterners Got Places that Players on this Side of Allegiances Deserved — Critics Claim He Picked Wrong Men Among Big Nine's Stars.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 12.—After digesting Collier's all-American eleven as picked by Walter Camp, football authorities in the West came to the conclusion that the Yale oracle had overlooked a few bets. One of the surprises was the omission of Chamberlain of Nebraska from all three teams. This player is regarded as one of the greatest if not the peer of any end in the country. Although Boston of Minnesota is rated as a strong player Chamberlain is picked several notches above the Gopher by practically every western critic.

Another surprise was the fact that neither Driscoll of Northwestern nor Bierman of Minnesota were given a place. These two were considered on par with the best in the country. Undoubtedly Mr. Camp took into consideration Macomber's ability as a kicker when he placed him on the team, and on the whole, there should be no great dissent in the selection of the Illinois star, although western opinion differs as to the relative strength of Macomber and several other western backs.

If the east has any better tackles than Buck of Wisconsin they must be wheelers in the opinion of those who have watched the ladder for three years. Of course it is recognized that Mr. Camp probably did not see more than one western game and that early in the season, and that he had to rely on information from coaches and others. It is to be noticed, however, that on all-American teams picked by western critics Macomber did not find a place, while Bierman and Chamberlain did.

Wolter will take charge of the squad immediately. The appointment was announced by Wolter over the long-distance telephone from his home in Redwood City. He had expected to leave probably tomorrow for Los Angeles for a conference with the new management of the Los Angeles club, but will defer the trip and talk business with the Angels' new leader by mail. Wolter recently announced that he will be perfectly satisfied as a player with Los Angeles under the regime of Callahan.

ORIGINALS WIN FOOTBALL GAME FROM CLUB MEN, TACKLING KAISER BEHIND GOAL.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 12.—Playing straight football on a sticky Oakland field, the Original club of Oakland defeated the Los Angeles Athletic eleven this afternoon by the margin of 2 to 0. Both teams were handicapped by the heavy character of the field, but the Originals held the upper hand at practically all stages of the contest. The winning score came in the third period right after the interval. The Original team, by a series of straight rushes, carried the leather to the Los Angeles 50-yard line. Here they lost the oval on downs. Tuttle, the Los Angeles full-back, essayed to punt at this stage of things. His effort resulted in a miss kick, the leather rising in the air for only a short distance. THE SAFETY.

Kaiser, playing at right half, grabbed the descending ball, but was thrown back over his own line by a pair of Oakland tacklers for a safety and the two-point margin, which gave the Originals their victory.

The game for the most part was a repetition of straight plays. The Originals gained most of their yards off the Los Angeles tackles, tearing big holes in the southern line. The invaders resorted to the forward pass for most of their gains and in this department of the contest were eminently successful. Two-thirds of their gains resulted from this play, the ball generally traveling from the quarterback on a line to one of a pair of speedy ends.

CLOSE. Both teams had chances to score from behind the line of scrimmage. The Originals rushed the ball within whispering distance of the Los Angeles goal on two occasions where a trial at placement failed. Once, in the first quarter, the Oakland team missed the crossbar on this play only by inches. The contest was free from rough play or injuries, and had the field been less slippery might have resulted in sensational football. Phil Case and Quarter-back Murphy played well for the southerners while Left-end Sauer and Bobby Gill showed to advantage for the winners. The line-up:

Originals	C	L.A.C.
Case	W	C. McKim
Sauer	B	L. Davis
Murphy	R	Great, Phil Case
Gill	E	J. Andre
Tuttle	L	C. Crawford
W. Sauer	R	T. Neighbors
B. Sauer	L	A. Neighbors
M. Sauer	R	Kaiser
G. Sauer	L	Phil Case

Defense, Pete Smith; umpire, Harry Plafie.

The Pacific Coast baseball season next year will begin on Tuesday, April 4, and close Sunday, October 29. The opening games will be Portland at San Francisco, Vernon at Los Angeles, Oakland at Salt Lake.

PICKING OVER THE REMAINS

OF THE 1915 FOOTBALL SEASON

"PREPAREDNESS" MOTTO
OF OCCIDENTAL ELEVEN.

BY WILLIAM M. HENRY.

OCCIDENTAL'S thorough football knowledge won the football championship of the Southwest. Throughout a strenuous season the Tiger varsity was a shining example of "preparedness." The Tigers' ability to meet any and all emergencies was the outstanding feature of their play.

MEDIOCRE MATERIAL.

With individual material which was certainly as a whole outclassed by both Whittier and the University of Southern California, Pipal built up a machine whose teamwork was unsurpassed and whose knowledge of elementary football was unequalled in these parts.

Capt. Sammy McClung at half-back, Deems at tackle and Holmes at guard stood head and shoulders above any rivals. Pete Lens at quarterback would have been a sensation had there been more plays in which he carried the ball.

RANK AND FILE.

These men were stars, the others just did thoroughly satisfactory work and it is to the men who did the thoroughly satisfactory work that Occidental owes her football championship rather than to the stars.

Pipal's runners always had fine interference and the Pipal plays had the advantage of not being obvious. He had half a dozen plays from every formation and not one of the plays found the man with the ball "going it alone."

WELL PROTECTED.

Pipal's plays were always well protected. The Tigers were the worst fumbling team in the south and yet they seldom lost the ball because Pipal always had an end trailing along behind for just such an emergency. Pipal's forward pass plays, his weakest point because of weak ends, were seldom intercepted and in cases where they were, the man catching the ball was always downed before he had taken more than a couple of steps.

Pipal's pupils won their only hard game from Whittier by a score of 13 to 6, simply because they were better prepared to take advantage of their opponents' misplays.

BOTH OFF FORM.

Neither team played up to form. Both were handicapped by having sick men. Both fumbled with painful regularity. Occidental won because her men were always on the ball and when either team fumbled it was an Occidental man who usually recovered. There is just as much good football in recovering fumbles as in running good interference.

Pipal's men used only half a dozen plays in the Whittier game. When they finally forged ahead by means of Lens's touchdown, they played a strictly safety first game of football.

TIGERS OPEN UP.

Occidental opened up in the Pomona game to some extent and ran up a score of 52 points. Perfect interference more than individual brilliancy made up the score.

To sum up the Tigers' strong points—they had a genuine backfield star in Sam McClung, the best all-round football man ever seen in these parts. They had a well-grounded knowledge of elementary football. They had wonderful teamwork. They had a varied assortment of plays. They had a great fighting spirit. They had a fine coach.

The weak points of Pipal's team were not brought out by the conference schedule, but by the Syracuse game. The one weakness apparent to all was that Occidental had no plays for her full-back and her quarter-back.

Everything was wrapped up in McClung and Smith. When the two half-backs got tired there was no play worthy of the name whereby the other two backs could carry the ball and in a measure rest the two halves.

LITTLE OPPORTUNITY.

Lenz and Brandstetter each had one play through the line and one forward pass—at least these were all they used. Each did well on it. Lenz showed up especially well, even gaining through Syracuse, but neither had any real opportunity to show his ability in carrying the ball.

The Tiger line with the exception of Deems and Holmes was nothing exceptional, but the men played wonderfully well together. The Tiger ends were a good deal weaker on offense than on defense.

THE UNHONORED.

Occidental had a lot of men who will not get the credit they deserve. Batz, the utility man, displayed sensational form at times. Brandstetter was the making of the Occidental backfield with his great interference. He was also a wonder on receiving the forward pass.

In the line Shipkey and Hollinger played first-class football. They simply lacked the speed to stand out like Deems and Holmes. Kohler and Ohi, the sub ends showed up better than the varsity pair in the Syracuse game, especially on defense.

SCRAPPY GUY.

Pick, who filled in at guard occasionally, was a scrappy player, but a little lacking in weight and knowledge of the game. Warren, sub center, looked like a sensation on the few occasions on which he was used, but for some reason seldom got a chance.

Pipal had few men of wonderful individual ability, but he built around them a strong, aggressive, speedy and "wise" football team. Compared to the Syracuse aggregation it had some weaknesses, in comparison with local teams it is hard to find any.

George Broadhurst, it is reported, is to do some scenario writing for the Oliver Morosco Photoplay Company while he is in the West.

Face Card Speaks.
H. O. Davis has his hand firmly on the steering-gear of Universal City these days.
"I believe in co-ordinating all the departments," said Mr. Davis, the other day, "so that everyone may work in harmony with everybody else."

To Draw Winners.
Mr. Davis states that it is the aim of the Universal, under his management, to produce the best stories obtainable with the best available actors. To this end, negotiations are now under way for the purchase of the picture rights of the works of several famous authors, both novels and plays. All film plays are to be rehearsed, and no time or money is to be spared in the production of feature pictures.

Power Chosen.
The Universal has just closed with Tyrone Power to appear in a number of feature pictures.

Magician's Plans.
Houdini will remain in Southern California for a few days before going to Salt Lake City, where the Mormons will wish new stunts on him. He will take a run down to San Diego today.

The Magician has been invited to appear at a monster benefit to be given by M. B. Leavitt, the well-known veteran theatrical manager in New York, January 11. At this benefit will appear some of the best-known people in the theatrical profession.

Again the Best.
What are announced as the "very best war pictures in the world" will be shown at the Mason Opera-house during the picture week, commencing this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, with another matinee at 3 o'clock.
"Spitting Fire" is the title of the picture. It is said that the cameramen who secured these took many daring risks and that some of them were killed at their posts.

The pictures cover the entire field of war. In one reel, you witness the fighting on the snow-covered heights of the Vosges, with the next reel you are carried to the sun-baked hills of the Dardanelles, and during the next quarter of an hour you may witness the majestic massing of troops in Poland, with the Czar, dressed as a common soldier, going about among his men.

Lord Kitchener and Gen. Joffre are among the notables shown.

Billie Burke's Film Debut.
Billie Burke in "Percy" will be shown in Los Angeles first, instead of in New York, as at first planned. The picture is an Ince Triangle feature and will be shown at the Majestic Theatre next Monday, in connection with Weber and Fields, Willie Collier, Sam Bernard and other stars.

Unconsciously Misleading.
After all, the critics needn't be so set on.
"The Misleading Lady" appears a very misleading lady, indeed. Every day comes inquiries at the box office of the Burbank, as to whether the show is "burlesque or just musical comedy."

Neither of these, friends, neither.
"The Misleading Lady" is a highly entertaining comedy. That's all. And that's enough.

Just Walk Right In.
Art Smith is to visit Universal City. No, he won't fly in to avoid paying.

Will Give 'Em Hand.
The Keystone actors will be out in force tonight to see Weber and Fields at the Orpheum.

Some Film.
A feature in the cap of the Triangle, and incidentally of Jack Conway, director: Mary O'Connor, scenario writer, and of Orrin Johnson and Paul Gilmore, principals, is the uniformly good notices which their film play, "Penitentes," is receiving.

No Come-backs.
William Fox has just established a rule of "No Return Date" for his films. Asked why, in an interview published in Variety, he stated:

"I don't believe in it as a matter of business. We want the first impression to remain, and if we satisfy our exhibitor, also make money for him with our production I do not deem it advisable to again show the same picture in his house during the season."

Orpheum Three-a-Day.
New Year's Eve will see two shows at the Orpheum, the first at 7:30, the last at 9:30. It will be the first time in the history of the house that two night shows have been given.

Miss Collier's New One.
Frank Lloyd is writing the scenario for Constance Collier's next picture, to be done by the Morosco Photoplay Company.

Bird Migrates.
"The Bird of Paradise" which was to have roared at the Majestic, will alight instead at the Orpheum stage, the seat also opening tomorrow evening.

Henrietta's New One.
Henrietta Crossman is to begin her Orpheum tour soon. Frances Nordstrom who was seen recently on the Orpheum stage, has written Miss Crossman a sketch entitled "Cousin Eleanor."

Back to Two-a-Day.
Anna Held will commence her vaudeville tour on the Orpheum stage, within the next few weeks. She is in San Francisco at present.

Zoo Note.
The Hippodrome stage was thrown into a frenzy of excitement Saturday when Property Man Peck, opening a long box marked "care of property man," unleashed a brood of rattlers. It develops that they are the property of Red Moon, the Indian maiden who appears at the Hippodrome today. And today the boys are wearing high boots and stepping high.

Grace's Debut.
Grace McCormick, a Los Angeles girl, will leave this week for Winnipeg, Can., to open an engagement on the Pantages circuit. Her tour will bring her back to Los Angeles in about four months.

Get Her Right.
Please remember that Red Moon is a chieftess, not a princess. It has been decreed that royalty among Indians doesn't exist at the Hip any more, though the P. A. insists that, judging from her photos, Red Moon is some queen, despite the managerial edit.

One day last week Duran was ascending in the elevator of a big building. Somebody yelled "Six!" Then somebody else shouted "Seven!" "I'll bid seven!" shouted Duran absent-mindedly.

Loew Waking Up.
Marcus Loew last week signed up the biggest star in the history of his circuit, when he secured Edward Ables to appear at his theaters in a sketch, entitled "Self-Defense." Ables is best known for his work in "Brewster's Millions," and as a Lasky film star.

It is said that Loew is angling for other stage luminaries of equal candle-power.

Frank Duran and his new wife have the auction disorder. They just love to buy those funny little useless vases, and those Japanese foot-warmer, and the other accessories of life, at the bunt bazaar. One day last week Duran was ascending in the elevator of a big building. Somebody yelled "Six!" Then somebody else shouted "Seven!" "I'll bid seven!" shouted Duran absent-mindedly.

Loew Waking Up.
Marcus Loew last week signed up the biggest star in the history of his circuit, when he secured Edward Ables to appear at his theaters in a sketch, entitled "Self-Defense." Ables is best known for his work in "Brewster's Millions," and as a Lasky film star.

It is said that Loew is angling for other stage luminaries of equal candle-power.

Some Film.
A feature in the cap of the Triangle, and incidentally of Jack Conway, director: Mary O'Connor, scenario writer, and of Orrin Johnson and Paul Gilmore, principals, is the uniformly good notices which their film play, "Penitentes," is receiving.

No Come-backs.
William Fox has just established a rule of "No Return Date" for his films. Asked why, in an interview published in Variety, he stated:

"I don't believe in it as a matter of business. We want the first impression to remain, and if we satisfy our exhibitor, also make money for him with our production I do not deem it advisable to again show the same picture in his house during the season."

Orpheum Three-a-Day.
New Year's Eve will see two shows at the Orpheum, the first at 7:30, the last at 9:30. It will be the first time in the history of the house that two night shows have been given.

Miss Collier's New One.
Frank Lloyd is writing the scenario for Constance Collier's next picture, to be done by the Morosco Photoplay Company.

Bird Migrates.
"The Bird of Paradise" which was to have roared at the Majestic, will alight instead at the Orpheum stage, the seat also opening tomorrow evening.

Henrietta's New One.
Henrietta Crossman is to begin her Orpheum tour soon. Frances Nordstrom who was seen recently on the Orpheum stage, has written Miss Crossman a sketch entitled "Cousin Eleanor."

Back to Two-a-Day.
Anna Held will commence her vaudeville tour on the Orpheum stage, within the next few weeks. She is in San Francisco at present.

Zoo Note.
The Hippodrome stage was thrown into a frenzy of excitement Saturday when Property Man Peck, opening a long box marked "care of property man," unleashed a brood of rattlers. It develops that they are the property of Red Moon, the Indian maiden who appears at the Hippodrome today. And today the boys are wearing high boots and stepping high.

Grace's Debut.
Grace McCormick, a Los Angeles girl, will leave this week for Winnipeg, Can., to open an engagement on the Pantages circuit. Her tour will bring her back to Los Angeles in about four months.

Get Her Right.
Please remember that Red Moon is a chieftess, not a princess. It has been decreed that royalty among Indians doesn't exist at the Hip any more, though the P. A. insists that, judging from her photos, Red Moon is some queen, despite the managerial edit.

LETTERS FOR CROSS-COUNTRY.

Track Manager Martin Zollie has set a movement a-going whereby Manual Arts will be the first school in the State to award a letter for cross-country running.

The plan worked out by the track manager is to arrange for at least two dual cross-country runs every year and then give a letter for cross-country running. In this way it is expected that more distance men will be developed at the Artisan institution as there will be more interest taken in the long-distance hikes.

The plan to be put up to the school council is for letters to be awarded to those that finish tenth or better in two cross-country runs during the season. The letter awarded will be the same design as the regular track letter, but somewhat smaller.

"Turning around, finally, she asked me thoughtfully: 'Do you think, sir, that any of the people who work in the moving pictures ever become actors?'"

Everybody's Sorry.
Poor Dustin Farnum has exchanged the noble chase for flannel pajamas. He has suffered a relapse, and is again confined to his bed with inflammatory rheumatism.

Brow Note.
Richard Walton Tully, author of "The Bird of Paradise," was engaged for fifteen years in writing the play. Of course that doesn't mean he went to work with his dinner pail every day. It simply means that he took that amount of time to perfect his plot, get the proper "atmosphere" for his story, study his characters, etc.

Warfield's New One.
"Vander Decken," David Warfield's new play, is a new version of "The Flying Dutchman."

We Lose Billy.
A painful bit of news is that Billy B. Van, beloved of Orpheumites, has deserted the variety stage, and gone into the motion-picture producing business in New York. However, Billy promises to reincarnate in a picture or two.

The Fluke's New One.
Mrs. Fluke has a new play entitled "Erastus Susan." John Cope has been engaged as her leading man. She will tour in the piece if it proves a success.

Far Away, but Busy.
Manager Oliver Morosco may dwell officially in Los Angeles, but he's certainly got a busy business office on Broadway, New York. He is now rehearsing "The Cinderella Man," with Phoebe Foster in the leading role.

John B. Miller Tells East of the Plans.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 12.—Hawaii, unless present plans miscarry, will send a polo team to the eastern section of the United States to compete in the big polo tournaments. John B. Miller of Los Angeles, chairman of the Pacific Coast Polo Committee, at luncheon yesterday with H. L. Herbert, chairman of the Polo Association, said the Hawaiians plan an invasion of the eastern circuit.

PLAY ALL THROUGH.
According to the present schedule, the Hawaiians will play the annual tournament at Lakewood next April and then swing through the circuit up to and inclusive of the championship tournament of the Polo Association at Narragansett Pier in July and August.

It will be recalled an All-Hawaiian polo team in the East. There has been no discussion of the team's plans after joining in the competitions at Narragansett Pier.

In the spring of 1908 a Ranelagh team stopped off at Lakewood for a few games on their return to England after the winter tournaments on the Pacific Coast. The mountaineer journey was which is an indication that should the Hawaiians leave the Coast in good condition they will arrive at Lakewood fit and ready to be used in the tournament there and through the circuit.

TO HELP OUT.
The Polo Association at the annual meeting in February will arrange the dates and conditions for the Narragansett Pier tournament to attract a larger entry than usual from each circuit of clubs in the country, which now consists of the Pacific Coast, Western, Mid-Western, Southern and Army polo divisions. Every arrangement that is possible to facilitate a visit from the Hawaiians will be carried out by the Polo Association.

PASADENA.
CHARITY BALL
FOR PASADENA.February Date and Maryland
Selected by Society.Twenty Church Congregations Sign Petitions.Police Sergeant Saves Two Lives from Fire.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Dec. 13.—Pasadena's premier social event, the annual charity ball, is to be held on February 10 at the Hotel Maryland, the date and place being announced yesterday. This year the society matrons who will have charge of the affair are planning a novel innovation by installing thirty-two boxes for the use of those who do not dance. These boxes will be sold at auction and it is expected they will net a neat sum for charity.

A second social announcement of almost equal interest is that the Tournament of Roses is to be topped off on January 1 with a ball at the Maryland in honor of the football teams of Brown University and Washington State College, which meet earlier in the day on the gridiron at Tournament Park. The California Dry, a social organization of young society men, will direct the affairs at the ball and the glee club of the organization will make its first appearance for the season that evening, giving numbers between dances.

Following directly upon the heels of the announcement from the Hotel Maryland that it would withdraw from the Tournament of Roses because the visiting football teams are to be quartered at the Hotel Maryland and Maryland, the announcement from the Maryland-Huntington management that it will make three entries in the parade this year.

HONORABLE GUESTS.
One will be a tally-ho, another a four-in-hand and the third an auto float. The one which will come from the Hotel Huntington in honor of Brown will be decorated in Brown colors and in it will ride some of the prettiest girls, guests at the Huntington, who will give the Brown yell and songs during the parade.

The Maryland entry will be in honor of Washington State College. It will be a compliment to J. E. Graves of Spokane and like the entry for Brown the girls who ride in it will all be for Washington.

Between the two entries will be the float "Strict Neutrality." The girls in this entry are to be impartially dressed in the colors of both institutions and are to cheer for both teams.

The formal opening at the Maryland will also introduce an innovation in the form of "At Home Night," all the old-time guests acting as hostesses. It will be more on the old-time Southern style than any function ever given in Pasadena. In keeping with the name Maryland old-fashioned lullabies and other familiar old songs from way down in Dixie will be sung.

During the dinner hour exhibition dancing will be given by Mr. Griffin and Miss Jane Ott. The guests will also dance at this time. One of the features will be a cake walk done by a couple of negroes. The two distinguished bands will be brought into service and two orchestras will furnish music. The "at home night" idea will become a part of the Maryland's social life from the time of its innovation.

CALIFORNIA DRY.
Yesterday was Field Day in Pasadena for the California Dry Federation and in twenty churches petitions were circulated to have the two California-dry questions put on the ballot at the next election.

G. M. Gandler, State superintendent of the Campaign Committee, was the principal speaker at the First Methodist Church, where the pastor, Dr. Matt Hughes, president of the federation, also delivered an eloquent address appealing for signatures.

As a result of this powerful-organized plan 60,000 of the 100,000 signatures wanted have already been secured. At the First Methodist Church alone 10,000 names were added to the petition and at the other nineteen churches of the Crown City many names were signed.

Dr. Matt Hughes, president of the California Dry Federation, said that the dry forces in California are prepared to execute the plan of campaign set forth by them in the recent State election.

SAVES TWO LIVES.
Sergeant J. O. Reynolds of the local police department risked his life yesterday when he rushed into a blazing room at No. 353 Wilcox avenue and rescued Mrs. Daniel Keyser and her 3-year-old son, who were overcome by smoke.

The fire was caused from an electric iron which caught on the cover of the ironing board, spreading with furious rapidity. In a few seconds the whole room was in a dense smoke. Reynolds, who was on duty at the time, was the first to notice the fire and she and her husband rushed to the residence with a garden hose, rescuing Mrs. Keyser and her son before the arrival of the fire department. Reynolds was burned about the face and hands.

STABBED MAN DIES.
Reinald Terrazzone, who was stabbed and robbed in Los Angeles about a week ago, died early yesterday morning at his home, 1071 Glen avenue, as a result of his injuries.

Terrazzone, who had lived in Pasadena practically all of his life, leaves a widow and two small children, a father and mother. An inquest will probably be conducted today. The funeral will be held some time tomorrow at Reynolds & Van Nuys undertaking parlors.

LONG TRIP.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
SAN GABRIEL, Dec. 12.—G. Endow sailed from Japan eight years ago to make his fortune in America. According to Endow's notion of wealth he has "made good" here, and he left yesterday for his mother country to claim a bride who promised to wait until he could send for her.

Endow sent for his sweetheart several months ago but an American missionary had talked to the promised bride and told her "it was not just the proper thing for her to come clear across the world to meet her lover and Endow, if he loved her he should, ought to come after her."

The San Gabriel truck gardener wrote first threatening then pleading letters to his affianced but all to no purpose and this week he decided that all women are contrary but lovable at that; so he started for Japan and his stubborn bride.

Sergeant J. O. Reynolds of the local police department risked his life yesterday when he rushed into a blazing room at No. 353 Wilcox avenue and rescued Mrs. Daniel Keyser and her 3-year-old son, who were overcome by smoke.

The fire was caused from an electric iron which caught on the cover of the ironing board, spreading with furious rapidity. In a few seconds the whole room was in a dense smoke. Reynolds, who was on duty at the time, was the first to notice the fire and she and her husband rushed to the residence with a garden hose, rescuing Mrs. Keyser and her son before the arrival of the fire department. Reynolds was burned about the face and hands.

STABBED MAN DIES.
Reinald Terrazzone, who was stabbed and robbed in Los Angeles about a week ago, died early yesterday morning at his home, 1071 Glen avenue, as a result of his injuries.

Terrazzone, who had lived in Pasadena practically all of his life, leaves a widow and two small children, a father and mother. An inquest will probably be conducted today. The funeral will be held some time tomorrow at Reynolds & Van Nuys undertaking parlors.

SAN GABRIEL, Dec. 12.—G. Endow sailed from Japan eight years ago to make his fortune in America. According to Endow's notion of wealth he has "made good" here, and he left yesterday for his mother country to claim a bride who promised to wait until he could send for her.

Endow sent for his sweetheart several months ago but an American missionary had talked to the promised bride and told her "it was not just the proper thing for her to come clear across the world to meet her lover and Endow, if he loved her he should, ought to come after her."

The San Gabriel truck gardener wrote first threatening then pleading letters to his affianced but all to no purpose and this week he decided that all women are contrary but lovable at that; so he started for Japan and his stubborn bride.

KICKED BY HORSE.
Mrs. Sarah Darrall, a widow residing on San Gabriel boulevard with her two small children, was kicked by a horse and seriously injured. The animal had wandered into the widow's yard and as she tried to drive it out it kicked her on the head. As were circulated to have the two California-dry questions put on the ballot at the next election.

G. M. Gandler, State superintendent of the Campaign Committee, was the principal speaker at the First Methodist Church, where the pastor, Dr. Matt Hughes, president of the federation, also delivered an eloquent address appealing for signatures.

As a result of this powerful-organized plan 60,000 of the 100,000 signatures wanted have already been secured. At the First Methodist Church alone 10,000 names were added to the petition and at the other nineteen churches of the Crown City many names were signed.

Dr. Matt Hughes, president of the California Dry Federation, said that the dry forces in California are prepared to execute the plan of campaign set forth by them in the recent State election.

Phoenix (Ariz.) Dec. 10.—Unusually the approach of the Christmas holidays, work in the Arizona mining industry is proceeding with greater activity than ever. The past week has witnessed the formation of eight new companies and a number of others are in the making. There is a constant influx of people to the camp.

Annual Meeting of Branch of the National Congress is Held in Neighboring State--Ray Consolidated Will Install New Underground Motive Power.

Phoenix (Ariz.) Dec. 10.—At a meeting of the Arizona chapter of the American Mining Congress held this week in Phoenix the officers, with few exceptions, were re-elected. They included: Governor, W. B. Twitchell, Phoenix; vice-governors, F. M. Murphy, Prescott; C. A. Grimes, Oatman; W. B. Cochran, Bisbee; directors, J. M. Hodgson, Elmer, A. J. Pickett, Prescott; J. C. Goodwin, Tempe; O. D. Gaddis, Kingman; W. J. Clark, Holbrook; B. Britton, Gadsden, Miami; William McDermott, Tucson; D. A. Burke, Bouse; Norman Carmichael, Clifton; T. A. Riordan, Flagstaff; L. S. Gates, Ray; J. Lorenzo Hubbell, Ganado; Con O'Keefe, Nogales, and Andrew Kimball, Thatcher. At the meeting of the directors today John H. Robinson of Prescott and A. J. McClung of Phoenix were re-elected, respectively, secretary and treasurer.

Ray Consolidated is about to install compressed air locomotive haulage on its present electric system underground. While the voltage is low, the latter system has been and dangerous where the slopes or loading stations are steep. The air system has been successful in the inspiration workings under the same conditions at Ray.

The Ray Consolidated is milling

at profit probably the lowest grades of copper ore in Arizona (averaging 1.5 per cent. copper), also has high-grade ore that can be shipped direct to the smelter at Hayden. During the last quarter there was secured 541,000 pounds of copper. For the quarter there was an average daily milling of 7785 tons of concentrating ore, which is shipped by rail.

FLOTATION PROCESS.

A new flotation mill has been started, treating ores of the Superior Consolidated Company in the Arizona chapter of the American Mining Congress held this week in Phoenix the officers, with few exceptions, were re-elected. They included: Governor, W. B. Twitchell, Phoenix; vice-governors, F. M. Murphy, Prescott; C. A. Grimes, Oatman; W. B. Cochran, Bisbee; directors, J. M. Hodgson, Elmer, A. J. Pickett, Prescott; J. C. Goodwin, Tempe; O. D. Gaddis, Kingman; W. J. Clark, Holbrook; B. Britton, Gadsden, Miami; William McDermott, Tucson; D. A. Burke, Bouse; Norman Carmichael, Clifton; T. A. Riordan, Flagstaff; L. S. Gates, Ray; J. Lorenzo Hubbell, Ganado; Con O'Keefe, Nogales, and Andrew Kimball, Thatcher. At the meeting of the directors today John H. Robinson of Prescott and A. J. McClung of Phoenix were re-elected, respectively, secretary and treasurer.

There is general belief among mining men that flotation will mean millions of dollars profit from the many low-grade gold mines that have proven failures owing to the inability of millmen to save more than a part of the ore value.

Flotation is to be tried in the mill of the old Rincon property, five miles from Congress Junction, near the Arizona-Texas border. The property is owned by Joseph Cope and W. B. Twitchell of Phoenix, who believe the only reason for the failure of the property is that the ore was not properly treated. The company announces that they will sink a shaft to a depth of 500 feet and later work is attempted.

BLACK RANGE.

Work in the Black Range district, where the same name is being given to the new shaft, is in progress for the first time in several years. The company has been working on the 300-foot shaft and is in seventeen feet. The shaft is being worked by a crew of very important deals in the district. The taking over of the shaft is being handled by the Phoenix and Hercules properties.

YAVAPAI COUNTY FEELS REAWAKENING SPELL.

Modern mill, but no degree of success has attended operations in the past, mainly because of bad judgment on the part of the managers. The prospect has been opened and the appreciation has come to the surface of the hills. During the last year the total location notices filed in the county were 138. The total location notices filed in the county were 138. The total location notices filed in the county were 138.

STRIKERS STOP A MAIL TRAIN.

Government may Take Hand
in Clifton Troubles.

Whole Mine District Under Rule of Outlaws.

Pay Roll at Bisbee Greatest Ever Known.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CLIFTON (Ariz.) Dec. 12.—A local obsession that workmen may be expected any day may prove the undoing of the striking miners, bringing down upon them action by the Federal government, the very thing that has been dreaded by the rioters. About the last straw was the stoppage of two trains Thursday afternoon, at a point three miles south of Clifton, by 150

strikers, mainly Mexicans, who made search for possible force before allowing the trains to proceed. The action

naturally has brought protest from the railroad company, which is an annex

of the Arizona Copper Company, and which has interstate standing, passing from New Mexico into Arizona in the twenty-two miles between Lordsburg and Clifton. The Arizona Corporation

Commission, acknowledging the gravity of the offense committed, has answered that the company for protection

must look toward both the State and Federal governments. Gov. Hunt

has wired Sheriff Cash and the militia commander, Capt. Hill, advising them that interstate traffic must not be interfered with. The Postoffice Department also is concerned, as one of the trains stopped carries a mail car.

The mine miners repeatedly have announced that they are not interfering with the trains, but that they are under the sort of State protection that would be afforded them, but they are not interfering with the trains, but they are not in the cause for continual suspicion here.

OUTLAWS RULE.

It is now proposed to "guard" the

Duncan camp with several hundred strikers, who are to be given official standing as deputy sheriffs or even as militiamen. For it is reported that the strikers are organizing a National Guard company of their own and that a considerable number of subjects are being drilled, it is said by militia officers,

in preparation for the expected receipt of arms, ammunition and uniforms

from the State. The Mexicans have been advised that if they are in the militia they would draw pay and could serve the union at the same time. The principal trouble lies in the manner in which these ignorant people, many of whom speak no English, are being handled by designing leaders. The situation here is not unlike that which has been known so long south of the border. One citizen writes: "Our district is now in complete control of thugs and outlaws, and if we do not get help we will soon all have to leave."

The remedy may be through international law, for the stock of the Arizona Copper Company, Ltd., is mainly held in Edinburgh, Scotland, whence may come a demand that the United States protect foreign subjects in their right to work and in the safety of their property and investments.

Possibly significant was the death

this week of Rafael Gonzalez, a Mexican miner, killed by the explosion of a box of fulminate blasting caps he was carrying. There can be no doubt that the strikers have available large quantities of dynamite. Financial support is coming in from the Western Federation and from unions all over the United States. Collecting for the Clifton strike has even begun in the Pennsylvania coal fields.

BIG PAY ROLL.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BISBEE (Ariz.) Dec. 11.—The last

semi-monthly pay day was the greatest ever known in Bisbee, over $400,-

000 having been paid out to about

5000 miners, all of them making top wages in this open-shop camp, where pay is conditioned on the price received for copper. An copper to be every stone now is being worked and the output is contributing to the prosperity of employer and employee,

and incidentally to the profits of local business men.

For about a week fire has been known in the Lowell mine, starting in old sulphide ground on the 1300

level and extending up to the 1000.

The district now is well organized to handle underground fire and the section affected is being isolated by bul-

heads, principally to prevent the escape of gases. The fumes worked through to the Cole and Oliver mines,

where five miners were prostrated,

though none was seriously injured.

nephews, all serving in the trenches

for three months. This he feared to be significant of a tragedy,

as prior to that time they had written regularly.

Then came the final blow in the shape of a letter from Dr. Abbe. In this communication the surgeon gave an opinion that under existing conditions, he could not vouch for the successful outcome of the final operation and declared it better for Mr.

Goerlitz to continue to live as long as he could without going under the knife.

THREATENED SUICIDE.

In September, before the receipt of this letter, Mr. Goerlitz told his wife that if he found his case was hopeless he would end his life. Knowing this, she was anxious and strove

to keep him cheerful.

Three days ago Mr. Candler died suddenly. Despite the wishes of his wife, Mr. Goerlitz attended the funeral last Friday. He returned home much depressed.

Telling his wife he had made a business arrangement to meet prospective purchasers in a real estate deal, Mr. Goerlitz came to Los Angeles Friday night and registered at the Hollenbeck. All day Saturday he spent in settling his immediate business affairs. His final action was to write the following letter:

"To whom it may concern: I am

Ernest Goerlitz and my home is Alta

Loma. Send my body to my family

there. A serious operation, which I underwent one and one-half years ago has left me an invalid—a burden to myself and my dear wife at a time

when she is very much in need of my support. This is the reason for my act.

"My wife is Mrs. Martha J. Goer-litz, Alta Loma. I am on the most cordial terms with her. Please break the news to her gently. She will take charge of my body. Some friends in town, who know me well, are

Charles F. Lumis, Samuel F. Both-

well and Oliver Morosco. I am asking the hotel management pardon

for the trouble I am obliged to cause them.

[Signed] "ERNEST GOERLITZ."

"When he had finished this letter,

Mr. Goerlitz swallowed the poison he had purchased, and as he sank on the bed, fired a bullet into his brain.

The business man put in one season

at the hotel yesterday morning and inquired for him. They were told he had not returned, and the telephone

the telephone elicited no response.

The business man went upstairs to the room. As knocking did no good, they looked over the transom to see if Mr.

Goerlitz was there. They sight meeting their eyes caused them to retreat in a panic. A husky porter broke through the door.

Mr. Goerlitz leaves, in addition to the widow, two sons, Edgar, 19 years old, and Henry, 17 years old. He had a sister in New York and six brothers in Germany. Edgar Goerlitz is hurrying to this city from Kingman,

Ariz., where he was at the time of the tragedy. The body was removed to Breese mortuary. Funeral services will be conducted there Wednesday.

Mr. Goerlitz died a wealthy man,

although his property, which was to

a considerable extent in stocks, had depreciated considerably in the last few years. In addition to his orange ranch he had real estate in the East and in Europe. He carried at least $10,000 life insurance—this is in one policy known to the widow—and one of his last acts was to make sure that the documents pertaining to this were safe in his deposit box. He had a fear of accidents and carried large indemnity policies.

NOTABLE CAREER.

GRAND OPERA IMPRESARIO.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE

TIMES, Dec. 12.—Ernest Goerlitz was educated in Germany and came to this country when he was a young man. Shortly after his arrival in New York City he entered the employ of Henry Daxian, theatrical costumer,

and in time became Mr. Daxian's

cashier and book-keeper.

Daxian was supplying most of the costumes for Abbey Schofield and Grau, the grand opera directors at the Metropolitan Opera-house, and young Goerlitz became much interested in grand opera and in 1891 left

Daxian's employ and obtained a clerical position in the business department of the Metropolitan. Maurice

Gran soon after made Goerlitz his private secretary and he occupied that position when Mr. Grau became the sole director of the Metropolitan.

When Heinrich Corried succeeded

Grau as director, he appointed Goer-litz as his personal secretary and finally made him his general manager.

In 1906-1907, when Mr. Corried was too ill to attend to the affairs of the opera, Goerlitz assumed the entire management.

Goerlitz worked so hard at that time that his health became poor and he later resigned. He took a trip to Europe where Oscar Hammerstein

was there engaging artists for his

Manhattan Opera-house. Hammerstein met Goerlitz in Paris and engaged him as manager of the Manhattan, the contract being for fifteen years. Goerlitz put in one season with Hammerstein and then resigned

in November, 1910, his health again

being given as the cause.

He went to California with his wife and two sons and bought the Alta

Loma orange grove in San Bernardino county. Henry Daxian, the cos-tumer, was greatly shocked tonight

when he learned that his old employee and friend had killed himself.

Why, I received a letter from Mr.

Goerlitz only yesterday," said Mr.

Daxian. "I know that his health was not good, but I never looked for his career to end in suicide. He was a charming fellow and a great favorite with all who knew him. He was a very capable manager and knew the ins and outs of the grand opera business perhaps
